

Look to Corn Products Specialty Ingredients for a wide range of polyols to help meet your pet care product formulation needs.

Our polyols can provide important functionality in a variety of product categories such as pet foods, treats and other pet care applications. For example, our GLYSTAR® Performance Systems are unique blends of glycerin and other polyols that are designed to provide exceptional control of humectancy, water activity, moisture balance, sweetness and mouthfeel, while offering the added advantages of caloric reduction and improved cost control.

The Applications Research and Technical Service (ARTS) Group at Corn Products Specialty Ingredients has extensive experience in formulating with polyols across a wide variety of product applications. We welcome opportunities to work with our customers on their pet care formulation challenges.
